

Development and Marketing Internship

Dr. Barbara Reuer, an internationally-recognized leader in music therapy, founded Resounding Joy in 2004 and has guided the organization's growth from a group of volunteers with a closet of instruments to San Diego's primary nonprofit provider of music therapy. Resounding Joy provides music therapy to the community through four programs designed for underserved populations: Semper Sound, Mindful Music, and Healing Notes.

- Semper Sound is devoted to working directly with service members and veterans with stress and trauma.
- Mindful Music trains volunteers to use recreational and supportive music with seniors of all abilities.
- Healing Notes provides free music therapy to improve medical outcomes and quality of life for children struggling with severe or life-limiting diagnoses.

Essential Functions:

This internship will provide the right candidate with the opportunity to grow and build a foundation in the marketing and development field by having direct impact on the function, productivity and organization of Resounding Joy. Candidates will assist in numerous and varied projects including assisting in the planning of special events, conducting research, managing critical administrative projects, and writing content for various external audiences.

Each internship is customized to meet the educational goals of the intern and offers a great deal of flexibility.

Duties and Responsibilities:

1. Draft email and Facebook content; may include interviewing and/or taking photos & video.
2. Conduct various research projects on fundraising prospects and draft grant proposals.
3. Identify and communicate with potential partner businesses and organizations, including civic organizations.
4. Exercise good judgment and confidentiality in dealing with volunteers, donors, and staff.
5. Attend and participate in event-related activities and meetings.
6. Assist with other related tasks as needed.
